Judge calls Vest good doctor, dishonest businessman

Dr. Thomas Bruce Vest of Alton has been sentenced to two years in federal prison for mail fraud and is not allowed to practice medicine while he appeals.

Vest, who contends he is innocent, was ordered yesterday by U.S. District Judge Edward Gilbert to surrender his medical license.

Gilbert called Vest the Jekyll and Hyde who practiced compassionate medicine but dishonest business.

"You have to people inside you," the judge said. "One person is a trained physician committed to caring. The other is a dishonest businessman. In order to pursue your passions, you have to turn your back on one. A patient comes to you with a cyst on the foot and here comes the MRI of the brain."

Vest acted as a physician of all trades instead of concentrating on radiology, Gilbert said.

"You tried to be a Wal-Mart of the medical community. That role may be appropriate in the future, but not now."

Gilbert told the doctor he acted like he is not allowed to practice medicine while free on bond appealing the sentence.

"You will not examine for free or fee," Gilbert said. "You shall not practice medicine directly or indirectly. I hope I'm making myself clear. If you violate any condition of this bond, it will be revoked and you will be sent immediately to prison."

Vest, owner of the $12 million Doctors Clinic in Alton, was convicted last May of 34 counts of mail fraud over a four-month period on charges he fraudulently billed Medicare and private insurance companies for expensive and unnecessary services.

Gilbert also ordered the 67-year-old radiologist to pay $25,000 in fines and $41,000 in restitution to victims he bilked for fraudulent medical tests.

Vest was ordered to serve three years' supervised release after serving 85 percent of 20 months of his prison sentence.

Gilbert gave Vest permission to advertise for and hire a physician to run his clinic and would supervise the clinic's daily operations.

Vest's attorney, Don Weber of Collinsville, said the doctor plans to appeal the sentence and would seek a new trial.

"I feel the judge was very fair during the trial and with the sentencing," Weber said. "We are going to appeal, and I feel very strongly that we can win a new trial."

U.S. District Attorney Thomas Daly, who prosecuted Vest, asked Gilbert to sentence Vest to the maximum 27 months in prison and fine him $50,000. Gilbert denied Daly's request that Vest reimburse the government $1,500 a month for his prison stay.

Weber requested the minimum 21-month sentence, citing Vest's age and his cooperation with the FBI's investigation into his practices.

"We took off millions of dollars in free services," Weber said. "This man is not about money. He never pursued Medicare patients. He wrote off unpaid bills. There was no strong-arm, law-breaker collecting money for Dr. Vest."

Weber said Vest never turned patients away based on their ability to pay.

Workers helping Opal victims

Thirty-one crews of Union Electric Co. linemen, including some from the Alton area, are in Alabama helping restore power to areas ravaged by Hurricane Opal.

The 121 UE employees sent to assist Alabama Power Co. began helping restore electricity to about 75,000 blacked-out residents, said UE spokesman William Gallagher.

State and Alabama Power will reimburse UE for the help under a reciprocal aid agreement among utilities for emergencies.

"They should be there for about a week. There are many downed trees and trees across the lines," Gallagher said.

About 20 employees of Central Illinois Public Service Co., which is seeking approval for a merger with UE, also went to Alabama, Gallagher added.

Child safety meeting

If you are concerned about your child's safety in the face of crime, then you may find some helpful information at the "Child Safety Night" at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, 4950 Maryville Road.

The evening of education and information will be held from 6:30-8:30 Wednesday, Oct. 18, in room 346 of the campus. The event is free and open to the public.

The GCC Public Safety Department will teach such safety tips as how to call 911. Children will practice reciting their name, address and phone number and other information that may be important during an emergency.

The Granite City Fire Department will provide information on fire safety and bring a fire truck, ambulance and mobile house for children to tour. The police department will teach children how to deal with strangers and trick-or-treating safety. Also, police will fingerprint children in case they are ever declared missing. The educational seminar will start every 20 minutes.

For more information about Child Safety Night, call Diane Copeland, GCC Campus activities coordinator, at 931-0600.

Quilt drawing set

An embroidered quilt will be raffled off at a chicken and dumpling dinner to be held at Central Christian Church by the Christian Women's Fellowship on Saturday, Oct. 21.

The quilt, embroidered by Helen Stone and quilted by Mildred Rees, can be won by the lucky person who has the right ticket. The tickets are $1 each, or six for $5. Tickets are available from members of the Christian Women's Fellowship or at the dinner. Dinner tickets are also available from members or at the door. Carry-outs will be available.

Physical therapy events set

Physical therapists and physical therapist assistants at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and across the nation will celebrate October as National Physical Therapy Month, by hosting a variety of events to increase public awareness of the benefits of physical therapy.

The theme for this year's celebration, "Physical Therapy: Hands-On Health Care," emphasizes the direct involvement of physical therapy in health care and the traditional tools of the physical therapist—the hands.

The Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Department at SEMC will celebrate by holding a public open house from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 18, in the basement of the Wolf Medical building, 2044 Madison Ave. in Granite City.

Refreshments and attendance prizes will be available, as well as fun activities aimed to educate associates and the community about physical therapy.

Man gets 12 years in ATM abduction

The second of four men who say they are the 26-year-old Granite City woman last year at an automated teller machine downtown has been sentenced to 12 years in prison.

Howard Hull, 21, of Granite City, pleaded guilty last week to charges of armed robbery and carjacking. William Hufstedler, 19, also of Granite City, also pleaded guilty and received a 12-year sentence.

Matthew Cleverling and Daniel Jenkins, both of Granite City, also face charges in connection with the Nov. 1 incident at an ATM machine at the Granite City Steel Credit Union on 20th Street near Lee Avenue.

The victim told police the four suspects — two of them wielding handguns and all of them wearing nylon stockings over their heads — forced her into the rear of her blue 1992 Chevrolet Safari van at about 8:45 p.m. on the night in question while she was attempting to make a deposit at the ATM facility.

The men took her to a remote area on Sloping Road just north of Lee Avenue, 270 feet from the parking lot where her car sat on a rock facing the levee and left in her van. The van was later recovered in the 2400 block of East Madison Street while the victim's eyes were covered during much of the ordeal, a video surveillance camera at the credit union caught much of the crime.

Police said the suspects used the names "Snoopy," "Bill" and "Danny" during the carjacking and robbery.

Goff gets five-year sentence

Former Edwardsville Junior High School Principal Ronald Goff has been sentenced to five years in prison after admitting he sexually abused two boys over a five-year period.

In a plea agreement finalized Tuesday, Goff, 56, pleaded guilty to four counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse in exchange for concurrent prison time and four years' intensive probation.

Madison County Associate Judge David Hernon, who accepted the guilty pleas, released Goff on bond for 10 days.

Privacy laws concern attorney

Nighohossian rejects release of occupancy permit data

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Conflicts over privacy and the city of Madison's ability to deal with overcomers in single-family houses led to arguments between aldermen and the city attorney.

At Tuesday's meeting, Alderman Alex Lux asked that a breakdown of new occupancy permits be provided to residents and then begin court action.

She said cases where two or three families are living in homes meant for one are causing problems and "bringing neighborhoods down."

But City Attorney Casper Nighohossian

said providing specific data on occupants could be a violation of privacy laws.

He said the proper way to do it is with that present and give the information to the city building inspector, who could cite residents and then begin court action.

During debate on the subject, Lux said that wasn't working.

"I don't like your laws and I don't like you either," she told Nighohossian.

Alderman Eleanor Armour said she knew of one case where neighbors were afraid to do anything about problems.

Nighohossian said in those kinds of cases, with no testimony there is nothing that can be done.

In other business, the board discussed capital improvements for street department equipment.

Street Superintendent Robbie Robbins gave a breakdown of equipment needed, including a new trash truck, high lift, sweeper and dump trucks.

He estimated the cost of all the equipment at about $220,000.

John Hamm, chairman of the finance committee, said there was money available for much of the equipment, but the city needed to start some kind of an equipment replacement program so it could be done on time.

"Robbie is going to have to set some kind of priorities," Hamm said.

The council also approved increasing the number of cadet firefighters to 15 from 10.

Teachers seek classroom project grants

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Grande City School District administrators are hoping that local teachers will be able to receive $300 in the area served by Illinois Power to receive grants for classroom projects.

In its third year, IP's classroom grants program provided grants worth $100 to 100 teachers, such as lab equipment, books, and computer software.

Ten of the grants will be awarded to teachers in IP's Granite City region: Alton, Granite City, Alton, Marion, National City, Brooklyn, Lovejoy, Mitchell and Pontoon Beach.

"Teachers have limited funds for special projects," said Jim DeVore, an IP customer relations manager in the Granite City region. "IP classroom grants can help teachers get the tools they need to do their job."

IP started the program in 1992, after suggestions from teachers in the Metro East region. In 1994 IP received approximately 1,400 applications for 300 grants.

"We've got a good track record with these," district grant writer Goni Michaeloff said.

She said the district has received a half-dozen of the grants in each of the past two years.

"It's kind of a wish list," she said. "If the teacher needs something, they have $100 to buy it."

Applications were sent to school principals. Teachers eligible principals must be IP customers in the utility's 15,000-square-mile service area.

Applications must be received at IP's corporate offices at Classroom Grants, Office of Community Affairs, 500 South 27th St., Decatur, Ill., 62525, by Oct. 31.

A selection committee of local educators will judge the applications. Winners will be notified by Nov. 20, and the cash awards will be paid directly to teachers and can be used for classroom equipment to enhance instruction in any subject.

For information contact program administrator Cindy Stuart at 217-424-6965.

De La Roche dinner held

The 1995 De La Roche Awards dinner had a special purpose — to honor the dedication of those who help the Sisters of Divine Providence and St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City deliver their mission of care.

SEMC President and Chief Executive Officer Ted Elieffman and Chairman of the Board Sister Mary Thomas Jucich unveiled a community award to the Edwardsville Committee, those who have been instrumental in planning and developing the renovation of the Edwardsville Health Center.

The Edwardsville Committee members include Gordon and Diane Brown, Janice and Joyce Buck, Nicholas and Mary Byron, Orla and Carolotta Cowan, Steve and Rea Ellsworth, Kenneth and Joan Evans, Jim and Carol French, Dennis and Jane Hyten, Roy and Vivian Oliver, Shirley and Anna Lee Rogler, and Ernest and Virginia Tosovsky.

For the past year, Shirley Mae Vigel Clements, registered nurse, and Dr. Leo Sachar were recognized with this De La Roche prestigious award.

Sister Gail of the St. Louis Post Dispatch presented Clements' award posthumously to her daughter, Michelle Dupke. Clements, a graduate of the St. Elizabeth High School, was nominated for the award because of her courage and heroism during a fire at the hospital where she worked.

Clements, who suffered severe injuries and burns as she rescued numerous patients, died from her injuries.

Leo Konzen presented Sachar his De La Roche award for his many years of dedicated service to SEMC and surrounding communities. Sachar was the first physician on the Board of Directors and the first medical director and vice president of medical affairs for the medical center.

OPINION

My view

Virvus Jones remained unrepentant to the end

Former St. Louis Comptroller Virvus Jones' recent television interview on 60 Minutes certainly took some steps after pleading guilty to tax evasion absolutely infuriated me.

Jones had pleaded guilty to two of more than 20 charges pending against him. These charges included tax fraud for using campaign funds for personal expenses without paying taxes on them and for not paying taxes on money he took from his nephew's guardian account.

In other words, Jones had admitted that he had stolen from the binders of the taxpayers of the United States — which is what tax evasion is — and had brazenly lied to police and investigators right up to the time of his plea.

He also, in effect, stole from his supporters who contributed to his defense fund based on his repeated claims of innocence.

Then he had the gall to stand on the courthouse steps and say over and over how proud he was of his term as comptroller. Part of his claim that he had been a great comptroller was that he hadn't stolen from the city of St. Louis.

Let's think about this for a second. Jones is a well-educated man who knows law. He broke the law because he wanted money. He transferred funds out of his nephew's account because he wanted more money. He lied repeatedly about his actions in attempt to cover up his actions.

As comptroller of the city of St. Louis, Jones was in a position to influence millions of dollars worth of city purchasing. He ran the comptroller's office like a personal kingdom and restricted others to block the public's access to information about city business. When he wanted more money and had the opportunity, why do you think he would have stolen from next?

Jones is not the city's first crooked politician, though he will not be the last. But he certainly ranks as the most brazen crook to hold public office in many years.

There were any words of condemnation from Jones' close friend, Mayor Freeman Bosley Jr.

Jones' guilty plea leaves the people of St. Louis in a bind. He has to appoint a replacement for Jones and the whole city will be watching to see what quality person this may select.

Remember, Jones first came to office when he was appointed comptroller by former Mayor Vincent Schoenmehl.

The taxpayers of St. Louis deserve better.

The only good thing about the O. J. Simpson trial is that it is over.

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

Some people pay big bucks for their entertainment, but the people in Pontoon Beach can get quite a show for free. Of course, I'm talking about the village board meetings.

Of all the boards, councils, districts and everything else I've covered, I've never seen a group of elected officials — specifically mature adults — behave so badly.

It also gives supporters on both sides a chance to be noisy, argue and insult, and have the board members decide if the best part of the show is going to be the board or the audience.

The root of it all is politics, specifically last spring's elections.

With the loss of two seats, Mayor Glen Wilson's party lost effective control of the board. Trustee Mike Macek didn't oust Wilson as mayor, with four votes his party could approve almost anything it wants.

Since then, both sides have been accusing the others of being obstructionists, sniping and picking at one another. Listening to both sides talk you would think they're already crossed into outright hatred.

Scott Cousins

At Monday's ad hoc meeting, all came out in a screaming match between Trustees Macek and Bob Vincent.

While all this makes for great newspaper copy, it can't make for good government.

Of course, in the middle of all this I'm going to be accused of taking sides, sensationalizing, and all those other things we journalists do.

The truth is I'd just as soon write about stirring heartfelt speeches by trustees, the mayor and other members applauding the bold visionary steps the board is taking, and sweeping economic development brought about by a new and more spirit of cooperation.

Unfortunately, until the village's elected officials decide to get together, bury the hatchet and work as a team, I don't think I'll get the chance.

Time- and work-saving tips on Fall Lawn Cleanup from the experts at

FRANK'S®

How would you like to save yourself some yard work next spring? Probably sounds good, since most of us practice work-saving techniques whenever possible. By performing a few tasks now, in the fall, you can create a fairly large chunk of leisure time next spring.

If you do nothing now, your lawn will most likely need some extensive weeding, extra applications of weed killers and fertilizers. In other words, a lot of time spent on those tasks that could be spent at the ball game, playing golf or fishing.

Here's how to do a little fall lawn cleanup that'll take less time now than you'd spend in the spring:

Start out by raking the leaves that are shading your grass. Also remove fallen leaves from shrub and flower beds. Cut back any dead stems of perennials. Now you're probably wondering how this will save time next year. It's quite simple.

Grass normally grows quickly during the fall, storing energy for winter survival and spring greening. If the grass is shaded, it won't grow as fast or store as much energy. Next spring the lawn will be thinner and less able to compete with the inevitable weeds. And gardeners who don't take action now will be doing so come spring, and spending more time!

If disease or insect-infested plant material is left lying around, you'll have to battle the same problems. More work. Picking up all the stuff now is the easy route.

Years ago, leaf disposal was easy. People raked 'em into a big pile and put a match to it. The aroma (or odor, depending on your point of view) was a ritual that smoke-signalized the entire neighborhood: "Fall is here!"

No longer. Nowadays, many communities prohibit leaf burning. If you aren't sure about your local laws, definitely find out first. People don't take too kindly to leaf smoke where it isn't supposed to be. There are numerous alternate leaf disposal methods, depending on where you live. But there's one excellent way that knows no city or county limits, and that's composting.

Another way of getting rid of leaves is to put your mulching mower to use. Simply run over the leaves with the mower and it'll reduce them to a nice, fine winter mulch.

Raking leaves always produces one thing, regardless of how they're disposed of, and that's leaf piles. They can pose definite hazards if they're in the street. First of all, never drive your vehicle over a pile of leaves. Small children are attracted to the piles and could be playing in one, completely out of your view.

Secondly, you should avoid parking on top of a pile, even a shallow one. The catalytic converters on the exhaust systems of today's vehicles get extremely hot after only a few moments of operation, and they take a long time to cool off. Parking on top of leaves can cause the hot catalytic converter to ignite the leaves, which could easily turn your prized set of wheels into something considerably less appealing. Find a safe parking spot and you'll be much happier.

So that's it. Spend a few hours cleaning up all the leaves and other stuff covering the lawn and next spring you'll definitely be glad you did. And you can enjoy your extra time!

Q. My wife and I are, unfortunately, on our way toward a divorce. Our funds in my retirement plan at work protected from my spouse taking some of the assets? P.T., Granite City

A. Perhaps not. More than 50 percent of marriages in the United States end in divorce and many times money from a tax-qualified plan represent a substantial asset.

Effective in 1985, Congress introduced Qualified Domestic Relations Orders (QDROs) which allow judgments, orders or decrees that are provided for marital property rights (including community property, if applicable) by requiring a qualified retirement plan (including tax-sheltered annuity plans but excluding SEPs and IRAs) to distribute or segregate all or a portion of a participant's spouse, former spouse or dependent. In general, all or a portion of your retirement benefits could be assigned as part of your divorce decree.

A QDRO must state the name and address of each spouse, the amount of benefit to be paid, the timing and duration of the payments and the name of the retirement plan(s) to which the order applies. Generally, payment begins on or after the date on which the participant (not the ex-spouse to whom payment will be made) attains the earliest retirement age allowed under the plan.

A QDRO, on the other hand, cannot provide for any benefit or option not provided for in the plan, nor may it require that the plan provide increased benefits.

Payments under a QDRO, while tax-free income to the recipient (if same) or participant, are not subject to the additional 10 percent tax on amounts distributed prior to age 59 1/2.

Although your retirement plan may not contain provisions concerning QDROs, your plan administrator is required to establish procedures for handling them.

The information I have just mentioned is merely an overview of a very complex issue. Should you have any specific questions about a QDRO, please consult your plan administrator or legal counsel.

I am hosting two retirement planning seminars in October at the Holiday Inn in Collinsville. The material will be basic and no age groups. The dates are Tuesday, Oct. 17, and Wednesday, Oct. 25. Both seminars cover the same material. There is a $10 fee and will last an hour and a half. There is no cost or obligation but advanced reservations are required by calling me.

The plan still calls for removal of residential soils with lead concentrations of 500 parts per million or more.

The potentially responsible parties and the city have objected to the plan and filed a lawsuit against EPA in federal court.

"The EPA is holding up development of a number of other projects in the city because of gasoline contamination, yet all they plan to do is clean this pile of lead," Selph said.

The city's concern centers on potential health contamination caused by the presence of residential soils.

An 18-month, $500,000 health study conducted by the Illinois Department of Public Health and the Washington, D.C.-based Institute for Evaluating Health Risks within a three-mile radius of the cleanup area concluded the lead paint and dust in household environments contributed to elevated blood-lead levels in children than lead-contaminated soil does.

Of four children tested, only four children had lead levels that merited immediate remedial intervention and most of those lived in homes where other factors contributed to blood-lead levels.

"Not just this study, but other studies in other areas of the country indicate that removal of the soil will not result in a significant reduction in the number of children with elevated blood-lead levels," said Dr. Renate Kimbrough of the Institute for Evaluating Health Risks, who conducted the study.

Assistant City Attorney Ed Fitzhenry said the EPA is anxious to begin the residential cleanup as soon as possible.

Alderman Craig Tarppoff, chairman of the citizen advisory committee for the cleanup project, has said the EPA is preparing to call in contractors to remove the waste pile before cleaning up contamination in yards.

Removal of the soil without removing the other sources of contamination is a waste of money," he said. He said a similar lead cleanup in Baltimore appears to have been a waste of time and millions of dollars.

He also said that a follow-up study to the lead paint cleanup in Granite City has revealed that areas which were remediated have been recontaminated at a mean lead level of 132 parts per million.

That means some areas probably have little recontamination and others have excessive recontamination, Tarppoff said.

"And we didn't have a 200,000-ton waste pile near those homes," Tarppoff said, adding that anything done with the pile — removal for example — would be a waste.

The EPA has already spent about $15 million to remove soil from areas in Venice, Eagle Park Acres and Granite City where most of the lead found in the soil was used as fill.

Under the revised plan, the EPA plans to pave remaining fill areas, including driveways, alleys and paths, and reduce the concentration of lead exceeds 500 parts per million, according to the press release.

hometown. His family is his top priority. He and his wife, Kim, have three children: daughter Amy, 18, and sons Charlie III, 2, and Tom, 1.

"I'm satisfied where I am at this time," King said. "My personal dream is to raise my kids with the same opportunities I had here and not feel like they have to move out."

King has hobnobbed with professional athletes and models.

"It's interesting," he said. "These guys with big contracts and making the big bucks, you'd think they're different. But they have the same problems and fears as you and me."

Asked whom he most admires, King responds without hesitation — his father.

Charles King Sr. is a manager retired from Granite City Steel. He is also, by the way, general chairman of the Granite City Centennial Committee, the group organizing the city's 100th anniversary celebration next year.

King Sr. had a large impact on his son's future — perhaps more than Chip wanted.

He wanted to work in the steel mills, but I kept getting lousy jobs," he said. "My dad kept talking to the foremen, telling them to give me jobs that would make me want to go back to school," Chip King said.

Like his father, King is active in a number of civic organizations and is an officer of the Granite City Rotary Club and chairman of the United Way's public relations committee.

King sees the port as one of Granite City's greatest assets.

"We are blessed by our geography. As the port continues to grow, so will our group of consumers in the world," King said.

"And as Scott Air Force Base moves toward a joint use facility, the port will become even more important to the region."

Where does he see himself in 10 years?

"Most likely in a multi-specialty medical environment. I think changes in the insurance industry will force chiropractors and medical doctors of various specialties to work side-by-side," he said.

Knowing King, that medical center will be located right here in Granite City.

Garcia, Brown weighing in on college level

Less than a year ago, this scribe referred to the Richter scale measurement expected when two high school basketball players, Cory Garcia and Brown, then foot-4 and approximately 330 pounds — and Antonio "Chico" Brown of Edwardsville — were off. The mid-court thunder did cause a rumble, but since their senior years, each has made an impression on another level.

Brown recently earned a starting spot in the offensive line of the University of Illinois football team, although he played just two years of football in high school.

LISTED AT 235 pounds, Chico — who weighed 299 prior to playing Indiana U., has impressed coach Lou Tepper as a "future force" and already has played more minutes than most freshman recruits.

Garcia, meanwhile, now needs a release from Kaskaskia Community College basketball coach Jeff Carling to become eligible to play at Belleville Area College.

Apparently Garcia attended Kaskaskia for three days and then departed as a result of a conflict related to money. He had been at Kaskaskia since it was food that slowed Cory at the start of his senior season at Collinsville.

Collinsville's three-year starter spent the summer of 1994 delivering fast food, including sub sandwiches that somehow added to Garcia's girth.

LAST SUMMER, though, the former Kahoks star left the food in favor of working for a florist, which then led to a slimmer Garcia come August.

"I do not know all the details of what went on at Kaskaskia, but if Jeff would release Cory, I'd like to see him back from our schedule," said BAC coach Jay Harrington.

While enrolled at BAC, Garcia still has four years of basketball left, so he was recently denied a request for his release from Carling, but he can practice with the Dutchmen this year — a fact that did not escape from Harrington.

"Lord have mercy, he's quick for his size," said Harrington.

His brother, Cory is quicker with his book work than at CHS — a matter that definitely will allow him to smell the roses along the way.

OVERTIME: Brown is one of 69 Illini players from the state of Illinois. Others include Garrett Johnson (6-3, 250), freshman Brian McNease (6-1, 229), Anthony Byrd (6-3, 229), junior running back, Al Fallon; David James (6-0, 225), sophomore linebacker and Dennis Stallings (6-4, 229), junior, East St. Louis Senior; and Elmer Hickman (6-1, 212), freshman running back, Alton...

This season's Illinois "personal" note is on Byrd which reads: "Hopes to attend law school after college... Person in history he would most like to meet is Illinois great Red Grange." The non-sports note here is required Supreme Court justice Thurgood Marshall... Was a Pittsburgh Steelers fan as a child, idolizing defensive end Joe Greene.

EXTRA INNINGS: Remember when this corner knocked the Hill High School coaches for moving its state baseball finals from Springfield to Geneva?

No need to doubt the IHSA or the geography of the state. The association points to a recently published attendance figure of 10,762 — the highest ever for the state finals.

The IHSA also makes note of other attendance figures supporting more interest in prep sports. Total postseason tournament figures for all boys and girls sports for 1994-95 showed a combined 1,473,347 — the most in 18 years.

Kickers net No. 1 seed

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

The Granite City Warriors had a fine showing at the Turnaround of Champions, got some good news at the sectional seeding meeting, then traveled to McCluer North on Thursday and flattened out.

After a nice week at their prestigious tournament, the Warriors were able to follow up with a No. 1 seed at the Edwardsville Sectional. They will begin the postseason Oct. 21 at home against the winner of the Cahokia/East Alton-Wood River game, scheduled for Oct. 18.

IF THE WARRIORS win their first-round game, they will move on to play the winner of the Belleville East-Mascoutah game. It is very conceivable that the Warriors could play the Panthers for the fourth time this season.

In the other sectional brackets, Edwardsville (13-4-2), seeded fourth behind Collinsville, will face Triad, the winner of the Carbondale-Mt. Carmel game.

Edwardsville coach Mark Schwarzkopf said he was not surprised where his team was seeded, even though No. 2 O'Fallon (14-1-1) played a much weaker schedule and was seeded ahead of Collinsville (11-3-3).

"I thought for certain we'd battling (for) a third or fourth seed," Schwarzkopf said.

"The only troubling thing was some of the other schools didn't recognize our strength of schedule. They were to win, I anticipate a rematch with Triad. Hopefully (See KICKERS, Page 3B)

Collinsville runners capture SWC titles

By Scott Marion
Staff writer

A first-place finish by Belleville West's Zach Froncheck was the only thing that kept Collinsville from sweeping both team and individual honors in Friday's Southwestern Conference cross country meet at Belleville Area College.

Freudenburg won the boys varsity run for the second straight year, but the CHS boys edged the Maroons 39-44 for the team title. Rounding out the boys team totals were East St. Louis (75), Belleville East (102), Alton (127) and Granite City (131).

THE GIRL'S race, Collinsville's Katie Meyer coasted to her second consecutive SWC championship with a time of 11:52. The Lady Kahoks, with five runners in the top 24 for runner-up, Belleville East.

Belleville West had 62 points, and Granite City had 101. (See SWC, Page 4B)

Alton didn't field a full squad. "Our No. 7 runner (in the boys' race) was ahead of (West's) No. 5 so she dropped out and we definitely won it for us," said Collinsville coach Chuck Wescott. "They've been doing just what we asked them to do — closing the gap. It's rare to cover country to talk about a race and have it come out that way."

The Kahoks' Justin Wilson and Chris Nuernberger placed second and third, respectively, for CHS, who were followed by Triad's Smith, Jacob Glauber (11th), Yi Hyong (14th), Nick Doelling (15th) and Alan Annaert (17th). The other runners for CHS were Jim Wright (fourth), Pat Rodman (eighth), Ray Wisdom (12th) and J.R. Hunter (19th).

"COLLINSVILLE RAN very well and flat-out beat us," said Maroons' coach Gary Weshinsky. "Their fifth runner was better than our fifth (See SWC, Page 4B)

First-half TDs lift Warriors past Alton

By Rob Raphael

In an important Southwest Conference game, two teams fought for their lives and the result was a very evenly played game. Except on the scoreboard.

Granite City got a big play from quarterback Juanell Goodwin, and some key first-down runs by Billy Niepert, to edge Alton 24-14 Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

IN A CRUCIAL turn of events, Alton tried a long pass with just 11 seconds remaining in the first half, but it stopped Granite City on a fourth-and-goal play from the 1-yard line.

The Redbirds went for it, and the result was a 26-yard interception return by Goodwin that gave the Warriors a 21-6 halftime lead.

"Our special teams really stepped up for us tonight," said Granite City coach Don Harris. "Goodwin just made a huge play on the interception, and that play really turned things around for us. And we had a great Specials boot, huge field goal in the fourth quarter that gave us a cushion."

Alton coach Collins James was a man of few words after the game.

"WE WERE LOOKING for some kids to step up tonight and it just didn't happen," he said. "I'm very disappointed. We came out very strong in the first quarter."

Indeed, the Warriors (3-6 overall, 2-6 SWC) started the ball smartly in the first quarter, taking a 7-0 lead when John Sellers — playing his first game at fullback — scored from the 1-yard line just under six minutes to play.

Sellers also scored on a 5-yard run in the second quarter, which gave the Warriors a 14-0 advantage. But all of the Granite City scoring drives, and most of their first downs, came from Billy Niepert, who rushed 23 times for 156 yards.

"What can you say about Billy," Harris asked. "He told me he deserved a game ball tonight. In tight situations, that's who we gave the ball to."

HOWEVER, THE RED-BIRDS (1-7, 0-4) had some offensive weapons of their own, including tailback P.J. McNear, who matched Niepert carry for carry and piled up 178 yards on 22 carries — including a 63-yard touchdown run with five minutes left in the first half.

Offensively, the teams nearly matched each other step for step. The Warriors finished with 25 yards of offense, while the Redbirds racked up 27 yards on 14 carries of the ball.

But on a windy, drizzly night when the conditions worsened as the game progressed, Harris said the lead proved huge.

"When you throw the ball, there are two things bad that can happen: They can intercept the ball or it can just fall incomplete and stop the game." (See WARRIORS, Page 3B)

Lady Warriors' serves set down Collinsville

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Granite City avenged an earlier defeat against Collinsville by knocking off the Lady Kahoks in two games, 15-13, 15-11 Thursday night at Memorial Gymnasium.

The Lady Warriors (14-8-1), who had stumbled badly when they traveled to Collinsville last month, took control early and never let go, although the match was a seemingly deadlocked affair.

IN THE FIRST game, the Lady Warriors were up 6-4 behind the serving of Jill Wozniak, who was 15 of 15 in serving on the night. Wozniak has helped solidify the team's serving, which has been perfect behind the line three out of the last four matches.

The Lady Warriors went up 6-4, but the Lady Kahoks came back to lead 8-6 behind serving from Andrea Froncheck. GCHS continued to glide, coming from behind to score three aces errors after that point, but the Lady Kahoks could not take advantage.

"They really could have put the first game away at that point, but we were lucky they didn't," GCHS coach Cindy Gagich said. "Jill was 15 of 15 in serving, which is like a knuckledball; and it's usually effective in taking the other team out of their offense. It Granite City's Robert Lampitt keeps pace during a run.

There were many things for GCHS hockey coach Dave Yurkovich to look at last weekend, and what he saw mostly pleased him.

The Warriors finished with a tie and a loss in two games last weekend, and were to play Friday night in the tournament consolation game at the U.S. Ice Arena in Webster Groves.

Granite City tied Rockwood Summit in 4-4 after taking a 4-2 lead in the third period. The Warriors then dropped a 4-1 decision to Francis Howell on Saturday.

ly it will be an extended post-season and an exciting one."

Granite City coach Gene Baker said he was not surprised by the results. He said he was happy to get the No. 1 seed, but the advantages of that seeding are a bit overrated.

He added many of the voting coaches consider head-to-head competition, and that's where O'Fallon got the nod over Collinsville. O'Fallon has only one loss this season, but does not face the reality of competition that teams like Collinsville or Granite City do.

THE PANTHERS LOOK to have a good shot at playing in the semifinals. They would meet the winner of a game between Wescellin and Metro East. Wescellin will play either Belleville West or the winner of the preliminary game between Waterloo and Effingham St. Anthony.

Collinsville plays the winner of Gahert and Althoff, two much smaller schools than CHS. The Kahoks' main obstacle to the semifinals would be Highland, which received the No. 6 seed.

Although Granite City earned its seeding, the Warriors didn't play like a top seed on Thursday at McCluer North. Although the Comets are a decent team, the Warriors came out strong and won.

"We had almost a week off, and I warned the kids about the intensity coming out of the tournament," Baker said. "I told them you look at teams like CBC, who tied this week, and DeSmeth, who lost — that kind of letdown is really pretty common."

ALSO INVOLVED in the mix are homecoming festivities this week at GCHS. But Baker still was not happy about the recent results. "It was the Warriors' first game after last weekend's Tournament of Champions loss to CBC."

Baker would rather not have that kind of performance," Baker said. "You still need to make the plays."

One person Baker lauded for making a play was Justin Wolf, who helped the Warriors' only goal in the second half Thursday.

"It was just a great goal on his part," Baker said. "But even after a break off, just to get healthy, we still have some problems."

points and a win in game one. In the second game, the action was nip and tuck, with both teams sideouting. GCHS went up 3-2 with Jennifer Willis serving, and after the Lady Kahoks took a brief lead, Woziak again served the Lady Warriors to victory.

Then, Collinsville's Laura Wolf served her team to five straight points, giving the Lady Kahoks the 15-5 lead.

THAT WAS A BIG momentum breaker, right after we had got back even," Gagich said. "We were able to move quickly and effectively possible, as she was serving line drives right over the net. We finally got a piece of one, and her next serve was wide. I think we have intimidated her just a bit."

With a second life, the Lady Warriors got three quick points with Amy Tapp serving, and after the two teams were tied 12 on the night, she went to the service line and pulled GCHS to within a point at 11-10.

Wolf also pulled out six digs from the back row, as did Jennifer Wright. Tapp also added a pair of important digs from

Again, the Lady Warriors

regained the serve after a pair of sideouts, and Denise McLellan added three straight service points to make it 14-11.

AFTER ANOTHER sideout, Granite City's Stephanie Brundt served for the match.

"Stephanie had committed a couple service errors in a row, so we were all holding our breaths at that point," Gagich said. "She served well and gave us the winning point."

"Amy really came in and gave us some help, and that's going to be more good experience for her."

BECAUSE OF homecoming week, some of Granite City's players have missed time on the volleyball court due to family obligations. Wolf and Tara Wiebusch had to leave during the second game Thursday night. They also missed an hour of practice the night before.

THE WIN SENT THE Lady Warriors into the Freeburg Tournament on Saturday, which was originally scheduled to take on Belleville East at 9 a.m. Saturday in the first of four matches at Freeburg High School.

Yurkovich's biggest concern was the tie to Rockwood. His team completely outplayed the opposition, and had a two-goal lead midway through the final period.

"I THOUGHT WE dominated the game," Yurkovich said. "I know we outshot them at about a 3 to 1 ratio. We came out and jumped on them for a 4-2 lead in the third, and they were playing well. But they scored twice through and again with just 57 seconds left in the third when you're having so much success like we were on offense, you tend to forget about playing defense. We had a couple of breakdowns, and it cost us."

Yurkovich said he was happy with his offense, which was able to pressure Summit for nearly the entire game. But Summit's young goalie stone-walled the Warriors.

Against Howell, the Warriors came out flat but played better as the game went along. After falling behind 2-0 in the first period, Granite City played better the rest of the way.

"FRANCIS HOWELL IS a good club, but we played well against them last year, earning a tie and a win," Yurkovich said. "They have two excellent goalies, and we had a lot of action hurt in that game. We weren't able to get off many good quick shots at their net. They based it on the first period right away from us."

rink is ready, the Warriors will have plenty of time to prac-clock," Harris said. "Fortunately, we didn't have to wait too long because our line and backs were doing a great job moving the ball. The fact that we got out to a lead made that possible."

Granite City quarterback Kevin Harris was a modest 5 for 8 for 46 yards through the air. Alton quarterback Craig Harmon also struggled with the ball, completing 6 of 14 passes for 71 yards.

Besides Goodwin's key inter-

Meyer, meanwhile, won the girls race by 57 seconds over teammate Kara Wolters. Other Lady Kahoks in the top 10 were Cara LeMaster (fourth), Jean Dietrich (ninth) and Collinville's Lauren Riley was 11th.
